Ejected teen let back in

◗ Judge grants custody of recently returned Mexican refugee to relatives ◗ Rules she can be identified only by her initials, J.R.I.

A Mexican teen who was wrongly banished from Canada last fall is now safely, happily — and legally — back in the care of two Toronto aunts, following a ruling Thursday by Justice Stanley Sherr of the Ontario Court of Justice.

But media outlets reporting on the girl's court appearance are not allowed to publish her name.

This state of affairs results from Section 48 (8) of Ontario's Child and Family Services Act, which states that "no person shall publish or make public information that has the effect of identifying a child who is a witness at or a participant in a hearing" conducted under the act.

The girl was declared a convention refugee in Canada in May 2010 based on allegations her mother routinely abused her, but she was nonetheless sent back to Mexico last October on orders of the Ontario Superior Court.

By the time that ruling was overthrown last month by the Ontario Court of Appeal, J.R.I. had fled her mother's home in Cancun and gone into hiding.

This past Wednesday, the girl made a dramatic return to Canada on a flight from El Salvador, accompanied by her paternal aunt, who was granted custody. Under the ruling, the aunt's name can't be published. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Report urges bigger Finch buses

It's a bigger bus, but it's still a bus.

That's the reaction of some to a report before the TTC board next week, which suggests articulated buses, potentially running on dedicated lanes, could speed the ride and relieve crowding for the 42,000 daily TTC riders on Finch Avenue West, the city's second busiest bus route.

The TTC is looking at how to improve service in the city's under-served northwest since Mayor Rob Ford has scrapped a plan to put a light-rail line on Finch that spans from Yonge Street to Humber College.

Buses alone won't be enough, said Mitch Stambler of TTC Service Planning.

"If we really want to make the Finch Avenue corridor more attractive to riders, it would take more than articulated buses. We're looking at different service designs that would put more capacity on the route," he said.

G20 tour a chance to walk and learn

Metro Convention Centre, the site of the summit, and the Novotel Hotel, the site of a sit-in, will be visited

Jane's Walks in Toronto usually offer people a chance to explore historic buildings, appreciate neighbourhood art and debate keeping chickens in the backyard.

But this year, one walk will show residents and tourists where protesters threw bricks through windows, where police cars were torched and where the cops finally released the tear gas.

The educational tour of the former G20 summit security zone, led by David Demchuk and Justin Stayshyn, is one of 170 free urban neighbourhood tours throughout Toronto this weekend.

The walk isn't a protest or a march, said Demchuk. It's meant to encourage dialogue, not disturbance.

Now in their fifth year, Jane's Walks are a nod to urban planner Jane Jacobs, the author of The Death And Life Of Great American Cities. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Interested?

- The walk starts at 11 a.m. Saturday at the southwest corner of King Street West and Bay Street.
- There is no advance registration; people who are interested are encouraged to show up.
- The tour will end at 401 Richmond St. W. after approximately two hours.

News in brief

Crown closes its case in Manners retrial

SHOOTING. Crown attorneys wrapped up their witness examinations Thursday in the retrial of two young men accused of first-degree murder in the death of Jordan Manners.

The accused can only be identified as C.D. and J.W. because they were youths at the time.

It was almost four years ago that Manners, 15, was found dead in a stairwell at his Toronto school with a .25-calibre bullet in his chest.

That bullet was one of the main topics of discussion Thursday in testimony from Garry Lawrence of the Centre of Forensic Science.

No charges in Layton massage parlour probe

In a statement by an NDP lawyer, party leader was told by police he had done nothing wrong

Ontario Provincial Police say no charges will be laid in the disclosure of Toronto police documents concerning NDP Leader Jack Layton.

Sun TV reported in the closing days of the federal election campaign that Layton was in a Toronto massage parlour when it was raided by police in 1996.

Layton, who was neither arrested nor charged, called the report a smear campaign.

The information was attributed to police notes taken at the time of the incident and Toronto police asked the provincial police force to investigate.

Police said Thursday the incident was investigated by Det.-Insp. Mike Bickerton, who concluded criminal charges would not be laid. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Provincial Grits add high-profile candidate to team

Bernie Farber is CEO of Canadian Jewish Congress

Premier Dalton McGuinty is poised to name Canadian Jewish Congress CEO Bernie Farber as the Liberal candidate in Thornhill for the fall election.

Farber, an anti-racism activist who has lived in the riding for 22 years, is the star the Grits have been seeking to knock off Progressive Conservative MPP Peter Shurman.

Shurman, also Jewish, said he is "not in the slightest" bit worried by such a high-profile opponent.

But enlisting Farber, whose candidacy will be official by month's end, is a big score for the Liberals.

While Farber was not available for comment Thursday, associates said he is revved up for a run against Shurman.

"Dalton McGuinty is unabashedly pro-Israel," a Farber confidant said.

Indeed, McGuinty's visit to Israel last May was a diplomatic success.

Meanwhile, Toronto District School Board trustee Soo Wong will be announced as the Liberal candidate in Scarborough-Agincourt Saturday.

McGuinty is also set to disclose that former Ontario Trillium Foundation chair Helen Burstyn will carry the Grit banner in Beaches-East York.

Two private citizens tipped for TTC board

The TTC could have two private citizens on its board as early as the fall.

Conference Board of Canada head Anne Golden and transportation consultant Richard Soberman have expressed interest in being on the Toronto Transit Commission, said TTC chair Karen Stintz, one of nine city councillors who govern the agency.

A report to the TTC board says the move would keep the transit agency in line with a new city council policy that directs all city agencies to have at least 11 members.

Among the skills private citizens could bring to the TTC are legal and financial expertise, "executive level" engineering and construction experience, as well as urban planning, rail and customer service backgrounds.

Stintz said the new appointments haven't been decided.

She wants the additional commissioners selected in tandem with a TTC customer service advisory committee likely to be appointed in summer or fall.

"It may be that we have (to add) specific skills to the commission and we also have customer service needs. People could apply to both or either/or," said Stintz.

Belly dancer brings grooves to Toronto

Performer makes second trip to the city to help grow art of belly dancing

Belly Dance royalty comes to town Friday to Sunday as Little Egypt and Hanna's Belly Dance Studio have teamed up to host workshops and shows featuring renowned performer Randa Kamel.

Kamel, who began dancing ballet at the age of 12, said she gravitated to Raqs Sharqi because it was an art form more reflective of her culture.

"I didn't feel like it was for me," Kamel said of ballet through an interpreter Thursday. "I benefited from ballet, but my passion was for belly dancing."

Egypt's top belly dancer performed with the famed Reda Troupe for seven years before going off on her own because she wanted to do more with her talents.

"I needed to find a way to express my ideas, so I started performing in five-star hotels to better use my creativity," Kamel said.

This is Kamel's second trip to Toronto and she said she loves Canada and hopes to help the art of belly dancing grow as much as possible.

"I feel really comfortable here. People really want to know about the art," Kamel said.

"I really feel attached to what's happening here, but there are not enough festivals for it to grow."

▶ Salvatore Crimi reopened Pizza Gigi March 2 after a mid-February raid in which police alleged they found $1 million worth of marijuana, half an ounce of crack cocaine, Oxycocet and OxyContin. Crimi faces 15 drug-related charges.

Police move to seize Pizza Gigi

Cops make a claim on the building housing a popular Harbord Street restaurant after the owner was charged with selling drugs from the pizzeria

Toronto police have made a claim on the building housing a popular Harbord Street restaurant after the owner was charged with selling drugs from the pizzeria.

Salvatore Crimi, the 57-year-old owner of Pizza Gigi, was charged with 15 drug-related offences in February after police raided the restaurant and allegedly found $1 million worth of marijuana, 14 grams of crack cocaine, Oxycocet and OxyContin.

Pizza Gigi reopened a few weeks later with Crimi at the counter, but Tuesday police obtained a restraint order on the property, which prevents it from being sold until the charges are resolved.

Crimi is also prohibited from damaging the property and adding any additional mortgages.

"It essentially makes the property available for forfeiture at the end of proceedings," said Det. Richard MacCheyne, who works in asset forfeiture for the Toronto police financial crimes unit.

The restraint order was placed on the pizza shop because police have identified it as "offence-related property" — they accuse Crimi of selling drugs from the restaurant.

As a result, if Crimi is convicted, the property would be forfeited to police.

Crimi will still be able to access his property and run his business while the charges are before the courts.

Crimi denied the allegations. "I don't sell drugs to kids," he told the Toronto Star. "I don't sell drugs at all." TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Unfriend students, teachers advised

Teachers who are friends with students on Facebook should unfriend them, says the Ontario College of Teachers.

The college was responding to queries from the Ontario Principals' Council regarding two issues: Whether the advisory covers existing online friendships, as well as the hours it is acceptable for teachers to email students.

In April, the college issued a guide for teachers about social media that recommended they not accept Facebook requests from students, and never email using a personal account.

They were also told not to text students and only email during the same hours they would feel comfortable calling a student's home.

Pakistan lashes out at America

But U.S. needs country's co-operation for ferrying supplies to NATO forces in Afghanistan Many of world's most wanted militants believed to be in Pakistan, including Ayman al-Zawahri, the man likely to succeed bin Laden

B.K.BANGASH/THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

▶ Pakistani Foreign Secretary Salman Bashir

Pakistan's army broke its silence Thursday over the U.S. commando raid that killed Osama bin Laden, acknowledging its own "shortcomings" in efforts to find the al-Qaida leader but threatening to review co-operation with Washington if there is another similar violation of Pakistani sovereignty.

The tough-sounding statement was a sign of the anger in the army. It also appeared aimed at appeasing politicians, the public and the media in the country over what's viewed by many here as a national humiliation delivered by a deeply unpopular America.

While international concerns are centred on suspicions that elements of the security forces sheltered bin Laden, most Pakistanis seem more upset that uninvited American soldiers flew into the country, landed on the ground and launched an attack on a house — and that the army was unaware and unable to stop them. That it happened in an army town, next door to a military academy and close to the capital has added to the embarrassment.

"Any similar action violating the sovereignty of Pakistan will warrant a review on the level of military/intelligence co-operation with the United States."
PAKISTANI ARMY STATEMENT

Ties between the two countries were already strained before the raid because of American allegations that Islamabad was failing to crack down on Afghan Taliban factions sheltering on Pakistani soil.

Who will care for bin Laden's children?

It took about an hour for U.S. Special Forces to complete their mission and kill Osama bin Laden.

It will take far longer to determine the fate of his offspring. The children — American soldiers left them at the compound with their hands bound behind their backs after taking away bin Laden's body — are being kept in a safe house near Islamabad in the military city Rawalpindi, a source told the Toronto Star.

Details on their specific ages and gender have not been released, although reports indicate bin Laden's 12-year-old daughter Safia witnessed her father's death.

Because of bin Laden's revoked citizenship status, his children may now be stateless, said a United Nations official based in Pakistan. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Tourists were target in café blast: Statement

- Key suspect has al-Qaida ties, according to report
- 3 arrested in Marrakech bombing that killed 16 people

Three Moroccan nationals were arrested in last week's deadly bombing at a Marrakech café, including the main suspect — a man with loyalties to al-Qaida who had attempted to travel to Iraq and Chechnya, the Moroccan interior ministry said.

The April 28 explosion that tore through the Argana café, a popular tourist hangout in the centre of the kingdom's biggest tourist magnet, Marrakech, killed 16 people, most of them tourists. The statement said the suspect it identified as the main perpetrator had targeted the Argana specifically because tourists flocked to it.

The man disguised himself as a foreign visitor to plant the explosives, devices that could be detonated remotely, authorities said. He had learned to make the devices on the Internet, the statement said. It added that investigators found some explosive materials and tools that were discarded after the explosion.

▶ Premier Dalton McGuinty's government is being criticized over what the opposition calls "a lot of secret deals."

Devious Dalton?

Liberals face secrecy heat Critics say Grits 'snuck' in a break for hospitals and gave union a secret hike

Critics are accusing Ontario's Liberals of becoming more secretive, despite their claims of making government more open.

Premier Dalton McGuinty's team is facing two secrecy storms — over hospitals and a union deal.

Liberals on the finance committee used their majority Thursday to give hospitals an exemption from the freedom of information law for data on "quality of care," an exemption they buried deep in the 2011 provincial budget.

The Ontario Health Coalition, a patient advocacy group, said the Liberals "snuck" a clause into the budget that had nothing to do with finances.

The Liberals were also under fire Thursday for a secret deal giving the Ontario Public Service Employees Union a one per cent wage hike next year on top of the two per cent increase in its contract.

The deal was reached without informing the public.

Country not under his thumb

Study contradicts suggestions Tory election victory means Canadians have become more conservative

To say Stephen Harper's top aides were euphoric at Monday's majority victory barely captures their high. Even on Wednesday, as they filed back into Langevin Block with four years to shape Canada as they want, they were in a daze.

But unlike many pundits, those same Conservatives told the Toronto Star they do not believe they have a free hand, or that Canadians have become more conservative in the face of the election's dramatic result.

Now, the first nationwide post-election study has confirmed their read and contradicted the analysis of many columnists and commentators.

The "orange wave" of the NDP, the decimation of the Bloc Québécois and the punting of the Liberal party to a far corner of the Commons "do not signal a tectonic shift in Canadian politics towards a two-party state," concludes a report by Ensight Canada, a government relations and strategic communications research firm.

Instead, the outcome is tied to the "particular circumstances" of the 2011 vote: An electorate weary of "political games," and hungry for stability and a focus on jobs and the economy, says the report, to be released Friday.

The company conducted a series of in-depth cross-country focus groups (10 in person, two online) with about 120 voters.

Participants were recruited not along party lines, but to provide a read of the country's mood across a range of demographic groups: Young and old, men and women, urban and rural.

The findings are similar to what national campaign chair Guy Giorno and others explained to the Star on election night.

It's all a political illusion: Analyst

The Liberal party is not dead, the electorate has not polarized or bought into the NDP's left-wing agenda, and Quebecers have not opted for federalism over sovereignty.

Instead, voters opted for Stephen Harper's "economic" agenda of lower taxes, less spending and regulation, and more foreign investment, said Ensight principal Jaime Watt.

Watt said voters craved the action they believe that stability would allow, and were surprisingly immune to Liberal warnings the Conservatives would threaten health care. Voters are actually "open" to let Harper explore private involvement in public health care to improve quality and to reduce costs.

Watt said the election was a shift away from two leaders who didn't speak to voter concerns — Michael Ignatieff with his talk of Harper's contempt for democracy, and Gilles Duceppe with his talk of sovereignty.

"(Quebec voters) weren't drinking Orange Crush, they were reaching for a box of Cracker Jack."
GILLES DUCEPPE

He added Quebec voters have not given up on sovereignty, they just don't want it argued in the federal arena. Meanwhile, Ignatieff's campaign on ethics "had virtually no impact" in part because he was an ineffective messenger blamed for causing the election, but mostly because voters cynical about politics didn't expect the Liberals to do better. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Sarkozy would support state for Palestinians

With peace talks stalled, Palestinian officials say they will ask the UN to recognize their independence

BEN GERSHOM/GETTY IMAGES

French President Nicolas Sarkozy says he will support a unilateral declaration of Palestinian independence if peace talks with Israel don't restart by September, dealing a setback to Israel's campaign to isolate the incoming Palestinian unity government.

The comments published Thursday — similar to a message from Britain a day earlier — suggest Europe may be inching toward joining those in favour of recognizing a Palestinian state even if there is no peace deal with Israel.

Sarkozy met with visiting Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, who is touring Europe to rally opposition against the Palestinians. Netanyahu says talking peace with a government set to include the Islamic militant group Hamas is impossible.

Netanyahu seems to be making limited progress. Western governments have called on Hamas to moderate its views, but are also urging Israel to make a new push for peace.

Ask Star Trek's Scotty: You can't change physics

Einstein was right, a NASA space mission reveals.

Gravity warps space and time, and rotating objects like Earth stir up space and time around them.

Two of Albert Einstein's predictions from his theory of relativity have been confirmed by NASA's Gravity Probe-B, says the space agency.

"Imagine the Earth as if it were immersed in honey," said project leader Francis Everitt.

"GP-B confirmed two of the most profound predictions of Einstein's universe, having far-reaching implications across astrophysics research."

Einstein's theories led scientists to discover black holes, microwave background radiation and quasars.

GP-B began in 1963. Experiments have developed technologies that allow planes to land using computers and to determine the universe's radiation.

Brother, can you spare a million?

Canadian millionaire club to swell by nearly 700,000

The assets of wealthy Canadians will reach $6.77 trillion by 2020, a new study predicts, adding there will be a lot more millionaires over the coming decade.

The study by the Deloitte Center for Financial Services says the number of millionaires in Canada will surge to more than 2.4 million, up by more than 32 per cent from the current 1.7 million. The rise is partly due to the strong economy, particularly in the resource sector.

Globally, wealth among millionaire households could more than double over the next decade in 25 major economies, growing to $202 trillion from $92 trillion this year.

Developed nations are expected to remain the centres of global wealth, with 43 per cent held in the U.S. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cost cuts to drive new carrier

But Air Canada could face headwinds with labour disputes, cost of fuel

Air Canada will introduce a discount carrier only if it can sustainably reduce labour and other costs, CEO Calin Rovinescu said Thursday after a shareholders' meeting in Montreal.

Rovinescu said the new carrier can work by creating a different cost structure to profitably operate in leisure markets and European destinations.

Canada's largest airline failed in its attempt to introduce low-cost carriers a decade ago. The proposed model would ramp up to 50 aircraft and create nearly 2,000 jobs.

Approval from Air Canada's unions is crucial. The airline has begun negotiations with its labour groups and is hopeful new agreements can be reached without disputes.

Apple updates iPhone software

Apple is updating the iPhone to reduce the amount of time the device stores information about its users' whereabouts.

The software released Wednesday follows through on Apple's recent promise to revise a feature that logged iPhone users' movements for up to one year.

Apple says the location data will not be kept for more than a week after the changes to the iPhone's operating system are installed.

Apple Inc. faced a backlash from privacy watchdogs after researchers showed how the surveillance technology could be abused at a conference last month.

Apple denied it was spying on iPhone users. But it acknowledged a software bug could cause potential privacy problems, prompting the latest tweaks to the iPhone's operating system.

Close to oblivion in 1997, Apple is now the world's most valuable technology company. On April 20, it reported net income of $5.99 billion US for the January-to-March period, nearly double that of a year ago. It shipped a record 18.65 million iPhones during the quarter. Its iPad tablet computers are so popular the company can't keep up with demand.

FRESH FACES SEAL PLACES IN POLITICS

THE METRO LIST

PAUL SULLIVAN
METRO

This was the mother of all news weeks.

1 Kindergarten Kaukus: Among Jack Layton's newly elected MPs: 19-year-old Pierre-Luc Dusseault, the youngest MP in the history of the nation, who would not have been old enough to vote before 1970. He is joined in the House by Ruth Ellen Brosseau, 27, elected in a francophone riding even though she doesn't speak much French and spent a good part of the campaign in Vegas, baby. Thus begins the shortest political honeymoon ever.

2 Osama pictures: OK, is this guy really dead or what? Doubting Thomases of the world unite! Show us the pictures! This is probably just a stunt by that other Arab, Obama what's-his-name, to distract us from the real scandal: He was obviously born in Africa or is an alien or something.

"... it's time for PETA to round up a bunch of celebrities to bitch about the seal hunt. This year it's Iggy Pop ..."

3 Royal wedding: Kate and William cost the U.K. five billion to 10 billion pounds in lost productivity because of all those bewitched Brits. Of course, the $3.3 billion in royal chachkas almost made it a wash. If you're already sick of the whole thing, hold onto your stomach as the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge are going to Hollywood after they finish the tour of the provinces this summer. Can't wait.

4 The Naughty Bishop: Canada's creepiest cleric, his former eminence Raymond Lahey, confessed to a fatal attraction for young males, even though his church is opposed to homosexuality, pederasty, and various other mortal sins of that ilk. Lahey is so overcome by Catholic guilt he's eager to go to jail even before formal sentencing. Whatever his maxima culpa, you can bet he won't be declared a saint like John Paul II right after he dies. Or ever, for that matter.

5 The seal hunt: Along with the darling buds of May, it's that time of year when Newfoundlanders go out on the ice to prove their manhood by clubbing cute cuddly seals to death. And, just as inevitably, it's time for PETA to round up a bunch of celebrities to bitch about the seal hunt. This year it's Iggy Pop, who just looks as if he's been clubbed to death, and Ke$ha (seals are, like, our friends) who are featured on posters that say: Canada's Club Scene Sucks!

Honourable mentions:

6 50th anniversary of the Freedom Riders: A little token dignity in a sea of nonsense.

7 Michael Ignatieff: It was all just a dream Zsuszanna. There's no place like Harvard.

8 Gilles Duceppe: Bloc Québécois leader will collect a pension of $140,765 from the Canadian people for the rest of his life. Merde.

9 Why are we in Libya?

10 Bieber watch: Australian teen arrested for throwing eggs at Justin Bieber. Because he missed?

Worth mentioning

TORONTO. A research team at Queen's University has entered the race to slim down tablets and smartphones with a plastic, flexible prototype that's just about paper thin.

The school's Human Media Lab has unveiled a type of e-paper technology nicknamed the PaperPhone, which is described as a bendable iPhone.

The device measures 9.5 centimetres diagonally and its electronics are housed in a thin, flexible film that can be rolled up. It has a greyscale E Ink screen and has a few applications that can make phone calls, play music, read e-books and maps.

Rather than using buttons or touchscreen controls, the plastic device responds to different bends. Commands are triggered by bending the corners of the device, or rolling the right edge backward or forward.

While creator Roel Vertegaal admits the technology would likely need at least five to 10 years to go mass market in a sophisticated way, he boldly claims the research team is onto a game-changing technology. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Wonder what his wandering will accomplish

A social media enthusiast has won the title of "Saskatchewanderer," a post with the provincial government that his bosses dubbed "the best summer job ever."

Andrew Konoff, 21, will be paid to spend the summer travelling and blogging, tweeting, Facebooking and YouTubing about everything that makes Saskatchewan special.

The tourism department came up with the idea to hold a competition to hire a post-secondary student for the job by posting short videos by the applicants online and then letting the public cast their votes.

The University of Regina student, event planner and stage actor started out with a clever video describing his passion for travel and his previous adventures on the Mongol Rally, a car race from England to Mongolia.

He boasted of his love for Saskatchewan, "which includes my love of the Riders and crappy roads."

Tourism Minister Bill Hutchinson said Konoff has already created a buzz about the job and he believes the people of Saskatchewan will find his work interesting and informative. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Plot synopsis

- Based on the Marvel comic book, the action in Thor really begins with our hero about to be named king by his father (Anthony Hopkins). Seconds before daddy says the words, "You are king," Frost Giants from an enemy realm interrupt the ceremony. Furious that his big day has been marred, Thor (Chris Hemsworth) disobeys his father and skips realms to confront the invaders. His punishment for his reckless, arrogant behaviour is banishment to Earth and the arms of meteorologist Jane Foster (Natalie Portman).

Reel Guys
RICHARD CROUSE & MARK BRESLIN
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Richard Crouse: Mark, it's hammer time! Thor, the ball peen superhero, is big, loud cheesy fun. It feels a bit like an amuse bouche to the all-superhero-all-the-time Avengers movie coming next year, but as an origin movie it gets the job done. Unlike its star, the incredibly buff Chris Hemsworth, the movie is a bit soft in the middle. It starts off well, slows to a crawl midway, but as soon as Thor Gets His Groove back … er … Gets His Hammer Back, the movie gets back on track. What did you think?

Mark Breslin: Well, it did feel long to me. In fact, my ath ith thtill a bit thor. But I liked the way it moved back and forth between the worlds of Earth and Thor's home planet. It almost felt like two different movies were going on, but just almost. At first I couldn't believe that Kenneth Branagh would direct a comic book movie, but the film does have a Shakespearean feel at times. What say you, Richard?

RC: It's a greatest hits of Willy's themes — love, deception, death and daddy issues, and Anthony Hopkins classes up the joint a little bit, although the way he chews the scenery it's like he hasn't eaten in a month but I wish it didn't sag in the middle. The Natalie Portman love story is the weakest thing about the movie.

MB: And Portman is the weakest link in the film, period. But what about the lead, Chris Hemsworth? I thought he was very good in a ludicrous role, and the twinkle in his eye and swagger in his step really made the part bearable, as did his spectacular pecs.

RC: Couldn't agree more about Portman. She's miscast. Kat Dennings, in a throwaway role that she turns into a charismatic supporting part, would have been a better and more interesting lead. As for Hemsworth, initially I didn't know if he was going to cut it with his oh-so-serious line delivery, but later, his realization that as "the Mighty Thor" has lost some of his powers is fun. The movie is actually a lot funnier than I thought it would be.

MB: Intentionally funny, I might add, which is unusual for this kind of movie. I liked the visuals on Planet Whatever. They were rich and deep, which is more than I can say for the now-mandatory 3-D, which I found tepid. But not the noise level! Talk about Hammer time! I'm just getting my hearing back now.

Feig mines optimism for laughs

Bridesmaids director got to work with the funniest females around Hopes movie opens doors for women

PHIL BROWN
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Paul Feig is probably best described as a master of cringe comedy. As the co-creator of the beloved high school humiliation comedy Freaks And Geeks as well as the director of TV shows like The Office and films like the upcoming Bridesmaids, Feig has displayed a knack for mining laughs out of awkward behaviour.

When asked why he has such an affinity for this style of comedy, Feig told Metro, "I'm an eternal optimist and when you're an optimist you're always opening yourself up for humiliation and failure because it's very seldom that things turn out better than you expect. It's inevitably worse and I always found that funny and relatable."

Feig's latest directorial outing Bridesmaids (opening next week) fits comfortably into this mould. The film stars Saturday Night Live veteran Kristen Wiig — who also co-wrote the movie — as a struggling woman with a failed business, a mountain of debt, and a stunted love life who finds herself going through a series of embarrassing misadventures while helping a lifelong friend prepare for her wedding. It's a situation designed to provoke fits of laughter through nauseating discomfort and also fulfilled Feig's longstanding desire to create strong comedic roles for women.

"I've always had this sick feeling in my stomach over women getting such crappy roles, especially in comedies where they always tend to become shrewish," explained the director. "To this day, so many talented people I know in this business are women who are hilarious but can't get that big break because the roles just aren't there.

"I thought it would be nice to change the tide with this movie a little bit. But that also brought a lot of pressure on me because it's like, 'Oh God, if I screw this up or it doesn't do well, it's going to make it even harder for women to get their own projects.'"

Based on laugh count alone the director definitely succeeded and now we'll see if audiences will be willing to open their hearts and wallets to see his cast of lovely ladies behaving badly.

Feig's resumé

Paul Feig might not the biggest name in comedy but he's been involved with some of the best TV comedies around. Here is a partial list of show's he has worked on.

- The Office, Nurse Jackie, Bored to Death, Parks and Recreation, Weeds, 30 Rock, Arrested Development, Undeclared, Freaks and Geeks.

Cattrall eager for fans to see her in latest film

Actress gained 20 pounds for role in Meet Monica Velour Sex and the City star plays a former porn star who befriends her biggest fan

SCENE@METRONEWS.CA

Kim Cattrall wants you to see her new movie Meet Monica Velour.

She's been doing a great deal of press, but hasn't restricted herself to only talking to reporters. Her campaign to find an audience for the film includes talking to everyone who'll listen.

"I feel like a kid passing out my CVs," she says, relating a story about a woman who approached her at lunch asking about the name of the movie. Cattrall not only gave her the title, but told her where it was playing and how to get there.

"It's very blissful for me to tell people about something I think is good and that they might enjoy and possibly need in the sense of it being a reflection of something in their lives."

In Meet Monica Velour Cattrall, best known as Sex and the City's iconic Samantha Jones, plays the title character, a former porn star, now a struggling, single mom. Her life changes when she befriends her biggest fan, an awkward 18-year-old boy who learns to accept her for what she is, not for what she was.

"I really believe this film should be seen," she says. "I feel like such a big mouth famous, but Michael Stipe is a friend of mine, and he brought a bunch of people to see the film. A couple of them were younger and they said, 'We've never seen a film like that. We really enjoyed it. It unfolded in a different way.'

"I thought, yes, it's not about slamming you, or 3-Ding you, or out electronitizing you," she laughs, "or whatever the words are! Welcome to stories that are about people. That are subtle and nuanced and detailed and three dimensional. Life is not always about huge meteorites heading toward your planet, it's sometimes just about a page turn."

The film represents a bit of a page turn for Cattrall. The glamorous star left the Louboutins behind and gained 20 pounds to play the down-on-her-luck Velour. It's a role Cattrall has been yearning for.

"I've waited my whole life in some ways as an actress to say, 'Look at me,'" she says, "not the images you cast upon me, but me. That's fantasy. This is reality."

It's a reality she desperately wants to share.

"I think it's an E-ticket because it takes me on a journey. I want to find more movies like this."

Priest taps into western genre

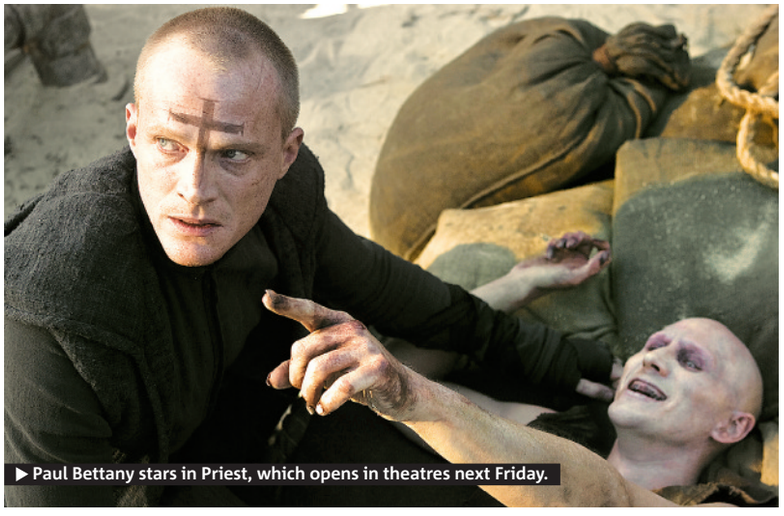
Director Scott Stewart mixes the Old West with a post-apocalyptical world in his fantasy/action movie

CHRIS ALEXANDER
SCENE@METRONEWS.CA



▶ Paul Bettany stars in Priest, which opens in theatres next Friday.

The American western long ago dug its dusty claws into virtually every genre of film known to man, but it's with horror and science fiction that the mark remains most resonant.

Think of any picture directed by John Carpenter, from Assault on Precinct 13 to Ghosts of Mars (even Halloween has shades of the ghost town showdown), or the Blade series (who is Blade if not an urban, undead variation on Clint Eastwood's Man With No Name) or James Cameron's Aliens and Avatar. The time periods, fashions and levels of reality may change, but the themes of blazing trails and defending against enemies within — and without — remain the same.

▶ Scott Stewart

Director Scott Stewart's new 3-D horror action yarn Priest however, makes little effort to hide its inspiration, wearing its Stetson tipped heart on its sleeve. The film sees actor Paul Bettany playing the titular man of the cloth who breaks his vows of peace to rescue his niece from the fangs of the hordes of vampires that ravage the Earth, all the while running afoul of a corrupt church (led by Christopher Plummer).

"(Priest) has familiar ingredients but a new recipe," says Stewart. "It has all these iconic elements. Motorcycles replace horses and the look of the film is a mix of the 1890's period film and a post-apocalyptic world."

Stewart's background is in special effects, having worked extensively with his own company and with Industrial Light & Magic creating some of the screen's grandest illusions. It's this ability to understand the aesthetics and mechanics of special effects that made him the perfect choice for such a visual picture.

"Because of my FX work I can visualize ideas myself," Stewart said. "I can show people what I want the vampires and cities to look like. That was one of the ways we got the studio on board for how I wanted the film to be."

Priest is clearly a fantasy, yet with its title and blatantly theological themes, it is certainly set to court controversy. Stewart, however, isn't worried about any backlash.

"God is not a bad guy in this movie. Some people interpreted Legion as that way which it was not. It's about an oppressive government that is just as bad as the church, but that's in the context of the film."

Movie reviews

See it twice | See it now | Worth watching | Yawn | Don't bother

Something Borrowed
Genre: Romantic Comedy
Director: Luke Greenfield
Stars: Kate Hudson, Ginnifer Goodwin, Colin Egglesfield
●●
This somewhat aggravating romance wades through murky waters of love triangles, deceit, betrayal and ill will. It's impossible to buy Kate Hudson's Darcy, a motor-mouthed shrew as the intended bride of a reserved Dex (Egglesfield), who is really in love with Rachel (Goodwin). There are a few laughs despite everyone's failure to see what's in front of them.
ANNE BRODIE

Jumping The Broom
Genre: Romantic Comedy
Director: Salim Akil
Stars: Paula Patton, Laz Alonso, Angela Bassett
●●
When a boy from the neighbourhood gets engaged to a wealthy lady, cultures will clash. That's nothing new, yet it's still the concept of Jumping The Broom, a sort of Tyler Perry-lite wedding rom-com. The actors are better than the material and often lift scenes above movie-of-the-week territory, but not nearly enough to save it.
PHIL BROWN

The Bang Bang Club
Genre: Drama
Director: Steven Silver
Stars: Ryan Phillippe, Malin Ackerman and Taylor Kitsch
●●½
The Bang Bang Club was a name given to four international news photographers who covered South Africa in the waning days of white rule in the early '90s. They shot pictures that opened the world's eyes. This is a well made film about four heroic men in a world gone crazy, none of whom were actually invincible.
ANNE BRODIE

The Beaver
Genre: Drama
Director: Jodie Foster
Stars: Mel Gibson, Jodie Foster
●●●●
Jodie Foster's first directorial effort in 16 years, The Beaver stars Mel Gibson as a failed toy executive who begins the search for redemption by speaking through a fuzzy puppet he pulls from a dumpster. A crazy premise but Gibson delivers a powerfully alluring performance and if his troubled tabloid reputation doesn't overshadow it, The Beaver deserves to be measured on its own merit.
STEVE GOW

Pom Wonderful Presents The Greatest Movie Ever Sold
Genre: Documentary
Director: Morgan Spurlock
●●●
Super Size Me director Morgan Spurlock returns with another comedy/documentary, this time exploring the world of movie marketing and product placement. The clever twist that elevates the film is that Spurlock actually funded the movie through corporate sponsors and it gradually becomes the very sort of ad (subliminal and otherwise) filled film that Spurlock starts out critiquing.
PHIL BROWN

Even The Rain
Genre: Drama
Director: Icíar Bollaín
Stars: Gael García Bernal, Luis Tosar and Juan Carlos Aduviri
●●●●½
For most Canadians, fresh water is a given. Not so in Cochabamba, Bolivia. Even the Rain juxtaposes the real-life conflict in 2000 about the privatization of the city's water supply with the filming a movie about Christopher Columbus' arrival in the New World. Director Icíar Bollaín crafts a powerful film and draws out great performances.

ANVIL'S 15 MINUTES TURNS INTO HOURS

SOUND CHECK

ALAN CROSS
SCENE
@METRONEWS.CA

Whilst listening to the BBC in the winter of 2009, a movie reviewer said, "The Story of Anvil is very good, but I couldn't tell if I was being put on. Is this a real band or is it some kind of Spinal Tap joke?"

I immediately sent an email. "They're real. Trust me." A few minutes later, the reviewer returned. "I've just received an email from a chap in Canada who assures us that Anvil and their story are very real. Okay, if you say so."

Since then, guitarist/singer Steve "Lips" Kudlow, drummer Robb Reiner — in their 50s — and bass player Glenn Five (the baby) have barely had time to breathe. Gigs opening for AC/DC; the Tonight Show; a cameo in The Green Hornet; shows from South America to Japan; a book based on the movie with a foreward by Slash. And along the way, a few surreal moments.

"When (the documentary) won at the Independent Spirit Awards, I saw Paul McCartney across the room," Lips says, "and I thought 'This is my chance! I'm going to meet a Beatle!' But then Quentin Tarantino blocked me. 'You got ripped off at the Oscars! YOU should have won (for best documentary)! But they gave it to a dolphin movie! A DOLPHIN MOVIE!'"

The Foo Fighters' Dave Grohl is a fan. "He pulled up in a limo and got out with a guitar case and I thought 'Great! He's going to want to jam with us!' But then he said 'This guitar is for you because I'm such a big fan.'"

Grohl invited Anvil to make their next album at his private 606 Studios. All of Reiner's drum tracks from their new album, Juggernaut of Justice, (out Tuesday) were recorded there.

HANDOUT

▶ Anvil

If you're into Anvil and their kind of metal, I can honestly say that this album is the best thing they've done since the early '80s.

ARTHRITIS

Pain free in 2 weeks!

#1

This is what happened to me personally. After suffering for years I desperately tried everything, drugs, natural products,physiotherapy, acupuncture, magnets and nothing was of any real help. Finally I had relief in 2 weeks by taking shark cartilage that was specially processed to preserve the natural active ingredients. This is the kind we are now promoting. I realized then that there are over 50 million men and women that are battling the same illness and getting treatments that are not working well, otherwise we would not have this ongoing huge health problem. In the last 10 years we have helped tens of thousands of men and women to have less pain or no pain at all. This is a by-product of the food industry. No sharks are caught because of their bones/cartilage. Nick A. Jerch, President

We have real EVIDENCE that it works. On our web site you find over 100 testimonials with full names and towns. All 100% true. Skeptics may call them. Here are some examples: ■ Doctor suggested knee replacement after all his options failed with drugs and cortisone shots in knee and lower back. I recommend Bell Shark Cartilage to those millions suffering needlessly like I did for 40 years with arthritis in my knees. It's a shame that I was given drugs and injections all these years when a natural medicine could have spared me the endless torture day and night. Pat Laughlin, Coldwater, ON ■ My hip is 95% pain free. Pain killing drugs mask and Bell Shark Cartilage heals. Rebecca Hite, Oroville, CA ■ I tried another brand and pain came back. 2 weeks on Bell and pain is gone again. Gert Dupuis, Hanmer, ON ■ Cancelled knee replacement. I was in pain and limping. Have no more pain now. Can square dance for hours. Anton Melnychuk, Porcupine Plain, SK. ■ For 32 years I cried barrels of tears. Was in and out of hospitals costing society tens of thousands of dollars. I have taken many thousands of pills that nearly killed me. Finally 3 bottles of Bell Shark Cartilage costing less than $100 stopped a lifetime of suffering without side effects. Eleanor Sauson, Shigawake, QC ■ Others write: Can walk again for hours…Climb stairs without hanging on to railing…First time in 15 years can sleep at night…Rheumatoid pain in joints down 90%, same for my sister.

Great Sex

Happiness for couples is a satisfying sex life.

Eroxil™ helps most men to perform like in their 20's. Evidence of a few hundred testimonials on our web site with full names and towns. All 100% true: ■ Eroxil is the best of all the supplements for men I've tried. Boosts my sex drive and I'm able to function anytime. Angus Gutke, 45, Calgary, AB ■ Regained virility in 3 days. My libido was restored for good sex. I've given it also to friends with the same results. One of them is a diabetic and overweight. Dr. Louis Rolland, 72, St. Hyacinthe, QC ■ Having orgasms off the Richter scale. It's like I'm a teenager again. The world owes you big time. Lawrie Roberts, 47, Toronto, ON ■ Wonderful to feel like a man again. It's wonderful to feel close to my wife again. God bless you! Charles E. Palen, 77, Burnaby, BC

Erosyn™ is the only product that helps most women to restore libido, desire and the ability to climax. There is no drug or natural product like it. Evidence from our web site: ■ Erosyn saved my marriage. I'm overjoyed! My libido is back. Words cannot describe how grateful I am. Carla Daunais, 32, St-Hubert, QC ■ I've been married for 13 years and never experienced climaxes in the last 12 years - untill I took Erosyn. New sex life is exciting! What a miracle! Jeane Adams, 37, American Fork, UT ■ My sexual desire is greater now than it was for 30 years. It's wonderful to have such ecstatic joy. I've tried others that didn't work. Eve Jameson, 58, Kingman, AZ ■ I'm 92 and sex is good again. Regained intimacy makes life more interesting. Florence Fryer, Edmonton, AB

Rough patch for Leo and Bar

Leonardo DiCaprio and Bar Refaeli's separate social lives are once again fueling breakup rumours.

According to Page Six, the couple is "going through a difficult patch," but are committed to working through their problems.

Earlier this week, DiCaprio chose to hang out with friends at the Standard hotel in New York in lieu of accompanying Refaeli to the Met Costume Institute gala.

No pre-wedding stress for Bell

Just because Kristen Bell and Dax Shepard are engaged doesn't mean they're busying themselves with planning the big day.

"We're just not having a wedding," she tells Us Weekly. "I mean, we're still getting married, but we're going to do it whenever we feel like it." In fact, Bell is still busy celebrating their February 2010 engagement. "The fact that he asked me to marry him is of a little more importance than me planning a party," she says.

Mother's Day brunch

Surprise mom with breakfast in bed • Pumpkin French Toast is easy for the kids to make • Pumpkin adds sweetness and boosts nutritional value

Of course, the carefully handprinted (and adorably misspelled) card made by our children is the thing that every mother cherishes from Mother's Day. Flowers are thoughtful and so is brunch at a nice restaurant. But you know what we really want, don't you? That's right: sleep.

As unsexy as it sounds (although maybe if we weren't so tired we might want that a little more, too), sleep is the real and reliable way to a mother's heart. And while we're sleeping, why don't you and the kids make something nice?

Pumpkin French Toast

This Pumpkin French Toast is an elegant and nutritious twist on the classic. Pumpkin adds a nice sweetness, while at the same time boosting the nutritional value. It's easy enough for small kids to help with or older kids to run with on their own. Plus, tinned puréed pumpkin can be found in stores all year round.

Honestly, the predictable let's-go-out days like Valentine's Day or Mother's Day are better avoided. Restaurants are over-crowded and the service is harried. So much more relaxing to have a nice brunch at home. Or better yet, why not breakfast in bed? Because we'll be sleeping, remember?

Ingredients:

- 4 pieces of multigrain, spelt or another ancient grain bread
- 2 tbsp (25 ml) butter
- 1/4 cup (50 ml) pumpkin puree
- 4 eggs
- 2 tbsp (25 ml) 1% milk
- 1 tsp (5 ml) agave nectar
- 1/4 tsp (1 ml) ground cinnamon
- Pinch ground nutmeg

Preparation:

1. Cut bread into four small squares; set aside.
2. In skillet melt 1 tbsp (15 mL) of the butter over medium heat.
3. In bowl, whisk together pumpkin puree, eggs, milk and agave. Whisk in cinnamon and nutmeg. Sink each piece of bread in the egg mixture, making sure to coat both sides well.
4. Add egg-soaked bread piece by piece into warm skillet. Cook for 3 minutes and then flip. Cook another 2 minutes or until golden. Add remaining butter to the pan and cook remaining pieces of bread. Stack and serve warm with agave. Makes 4 servings.

Try a Mimosa or Kir Royale with brunch

PETER ROCKWELL
LIQUIDASSETS@EASTLINK.CA
TWITTER: @THEREALWINEGUY

Since Mother's Day is this weekend, I bet many of you (especially the guys) will be cracking a few eggs in honour of that special woman in your life.

When it comes to liquids, brunch is like the mid-day equivalent of a big holiday meal: You've got all kinds of different flavours trying to make nice on one plate.

Off-dry white wines, light, fruitier red wines, dry rosés and, of course, sparkling wines are all great fallback bottles.

My mom loves a champagne flute of Mimosa. If mixology isn't your thing, the 50/50 blend of orange juice and dry bubbly (pick an inexpensive Spanish Cava) is impossible to flub.

Or try a Kir Royale. Originating in the French Burgundian town of Dijon, it's made by adding a teaspoon of crème de cassis — the region's famous blackcurrant liqueur — to a glass of bubbles. While a variety of cassis brands are carried across the country, Védrenne's Supercassis ($20.25) is a benchmark for the style.

Have you seen ads like this? "MONEY PROBLEMS?" "CREDIT PROBLEMS? Pay NO interest" "Reduce your debt by up to 80%"

Do they sound too good to be true? That's because they are only telling you HALF OF THE STORY! The procedure you are being sold is called a consumer proposal and may ONLY be administered by a licenced trustee in bankruptcy. After you pay these "consultants" a fee – hundreds, sometimes thousands of dollars – they refer you to a trustee to actually do the work (their ads don't tell you that).

There's no mystery, there's no clever deals or negotiation going on. These guys never actually speak to your creditors. So why are you paying them a fee?

Still not convinced? Their first meeting is free – before you go back a second time and start paying their fees give us a call. We'll walk you through all of your options and then you can decide what's best for you and your family.

One more thing – there are NO upfront fees to file a consumer proposal – if someone wants you to pay a fee BEFORE they file your paperwork then you aren't dealing with the right people!

Kick-ass and connected

Twitter followers knew about Bin Laden's death some 70 minutes before President Obama made his announcement. Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson had one of the first bin Laden tweets, writing at 10:24 p.m.: Just got word that will shock the world – Land of the free… home of the brave ... PROUD TO BE AN AMERICAN! The Rock is not naming his source.

The beard goes when he goes

Gary Weddle, a junior high school teacher in Washington state made a vow on Sept. 11 to not shave his beard until bin Laden was captured or killed. In the nine years the beard has been on his chin, it's never been trimmed. On Sunday night, a friend called him with the news. "I spent my first five minutes crying and then I couldn't get it off fast enough," Weddle says.

The slow decline of TV

For the first time in 20 years the number of homes in the U.S. without a TV is on the rise. The Nielson Company says the number of American homes without TV has risen from 1.1 to 3.3 per cent. Some households are going tubeless to save money but others are just watching their shows on laptops or handhelds. It could mean big trouble for the big network news machines.

Live acts at the cemetery

Hollywood Forever Cemetery, the final resting place of Rudolph Valentino, Cecil B. U.K. musician James Blake performs on May 24 and in June, The Flaming Lips will play their version of Pink Floyd's Dark Side of the Moon.

Canucks have Preds on ropes

Vancouver has 3-1 series lead as it heads back to its home ice

| CANUCKS | PREDATORS |

Ryan Kesler broke a tie with a power-play goal at 7:28 of the third period, and the Vancouver Canucks beat the Nashville Predators 4-2 on Thursday night to take a 3-1 lead in their Western Conference semifinal series.

Christian Ehrhoff scored a power-play goal and had two assists, Kesler also had two assists, and Alexander Edler had a goal. Henrik Sedin notched his first points in the series with two assists and an empty-neter with 20.6 seconds left.

The Canucks, the Presidents' Trophy winners for the NHL's best regular-season record, can close out the series Saturday night in Game 5 in Vancouver.

811885

Joel Ward and Cody Franson each had a goal and an assist for Nashville. The Predators lost consecutive games for the first time this post-season.

Kesler scored his second straight winner with a power-play goal off a penalty he drew.

This time, Nashville defenceman Ryan Suter yanked him down with an arm around his neck for a holding call, and Kesler scored 1:07 later with a beautiful goal. Kesler sliced through a couple of Predators and beat Pekka Rinne with a wrister from the slot. In Game 3, Kesler scored in overtime.

Nashville tried to rally, finally getting Rinne to the bench with about 30 seconds left. Vancouver took its timeout with 29.3 seconds left, and Nashville couldn't hold the puck in off the ensuing faceoff. Sedin clinched the victory with his first goal this post-season.

The Predators opened with plenty of energy with yet another sellout crowd armed with T-shirts to paint the arena gold and fan noisemakers.

But Vancouver has been outshooting and outskating Nashville in taking both games in Music City. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MLB wants more info on Dodgers: Source

Major League Baseball wants more complete access to documents on the Los Angeles Dodgers' finances, a person familiar with the sport's investigation of the team told The Associated Press.

Former Texas Rangers president Tom Schieffer was appointed last month by commissioner Bud Selig to monitor the team's finances, and he met with Selig and MLB executive vice-president Rob Manfred Thursday in Milwaukee.

The three decided to press ahead with MLB's probe of Dodgers finances dating to Frank McCourt's purchase of the club in 2004, the person said, speaking on condition of anonymity because no public statements were authorized. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

FIELD OF PLAY

The election of Elizabeth May in the riding of Saanich-Gulf Islands the other night was a victory for the Green party but it was also a loss for amateur sport.

While May will bring a strong voice to the House of Commons on issues surrounding the environment, the man she defeated, Gary Lunn, Minister of State (Sport), will be greatly missed by those who envision a fitter more physically aware Canada.

During his tenure, Lunn ensured stable and ongoing funding for the Own The Podium program, which delivered so much to the national landscape during the Vancouver 2010 Olympics.

"Gary grasped the opportunity the 2010 Games presented Canada to use sport as a vehicle to unite the country around the values we hold so close to our hearts," said Chris Rudge, past CEO/secretary general of the Canadian Olympic Committee.

But it was more than cheerleading that allowed Lunn to succeed at his job. He was committed to making Canada a major player in the arena of international sport.

During Lunn's three years in the post, Canada won the right to host the Pan American Games, the FIFA Women's World Cup and also re-energized its role in the Commonwealth Sports Federation.

"He saw that an investment in high-performance sport, not just for the Olympic Games, but also as a legacy of the Games, would pay dividends far beyond exceptional performance on the field of play," said Rudge.

▶ Gary Lunn

Lunn helped keep sport on the national agenda and in the public consciousness.

It was refreshing to see his enthusiasm as he travelled the country, and indeed the world, in order to trumpet the message of sport and how it could make Canadians more competitive, perhaps even prouder to wear the Maple Leaf. You would run into him at Lake Louise for World Cup skiing or in Kingston at a university basketball game. Lunn always applauded the role sport plays in the country's heritage.

"This is a great loss for the country. I feel certain of this," said Kelly Murumets, president and CEO of ParticipAction, a national non-profit organization to promote healthy living and physical fitness in Canada.

"Gary genuinely cared about sport, about physical activity, about competition (at grassroots and elite levels), about Canadians."

Unlike some of those who preceded him in the sport portfolio you get the impression Lunn actually wanted to be there.

Now he' s gone and amateur sport is faced with plugging a huge hole in the lineup.

Rays pitcher David Price undefeated in nine career starts against Jays

One tough inning cost Kyle Drabek and the Toronto Blue Jays.

David Price (4-3) allowed one unearned run while pitching into the ninth inning, Johnny Damon recorded his 2,600th career hit and the Tampa Bay Rays beat the Blue Jays 3-1 Thursday.

John Jaso had an RBI double, Damon drove in a run with an infield single and Matt Joyce hit a sacrifice fly off Drabek (2-2) to put the Rays ahead 3-0 in the third.

"When he got a couple of guys on, I thought he had a tendency to overthrow rather than continue to pitch," Blue Jays manager John Farrell said. "But I thought overall he did a much better job of commanding the strike zone even though the walks were there again today. I think today was a step in the right direction."

Kyle Drabek had his start moved up one day to replace Ricky Romero, who was scratched due to a mild left oblique strain.

▶ Romero is scheduled to pitch Saturday against Detroit.

The 23-year-old Drabek allowed three runs, six hits, four walks and struck out three in 5⅔ innings. The right-hander was coming off a start last Saturday when he gave up five earned runs in 2⅓ innings against the New York Yankees.

"I just missed a few pitches here and there, and that was it," Drabek said.

The Rays took two of three from the Blue Jays in winning their 12th consecutive home series over Toronto, dating to July 30-August 1, 2007. Tampa Bay has won eight of its last 11 overall. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
